On the occasion of the France-Russia Year, 2010, the National School of Fine Arts Lyon, and the Lyon Museum of Contemporary Art, in partnership with the National Centre for Contemporary Art (NCCA) in Moscow, are organising an exceptional exhibition. Vis-à-vis – Young French and Russian Artists, will bring together young artists from the Rhône-Alpes region and the Russian scene.

At the NCCA, Moscow, in July 2010, as part of the highly dynamic International Biennial for Young Art, the exhibition takes now place at the National School of Fine Arts, Lyon, between 15 October and 11 December 2010.

The exhibition juxtaposes works by French and Russian artists, and it is intended to promote the development of relationships and active exchanges. It comes along with a lecture at the Lyon Museum of Contemporary Art by Daria Pyrkina entitled Russian art context 1970s – 2000s.

The exhibition was made possible by the support of Culturesfrance, the city of Lyon, the Rhône-Alpes region and the Russian Ministry of Culture.
